STRANGE STORIES ABOUT A DI VINE'S DISAPPEARANCE.

An Ex-Roman Father, But Latterly Methodist Parson, is Among the Missing-Rumors That He Was Abducted-Has He Gone to Rome?

MONTREAL, May 9 .- Rev. Louis Martin, an ex-Lloman priest, but now a Methodist minister, has disappeared from bls home here and his family are unable to get any trace of his where-abouts. By some it is believed that he has been abducted or that he has been prevailed upon to leave his home and family and return to Rome and there renounce his new faith and once more promise allegiance to the Holy Father The missing minister is about 30 years of age. He was educated at the Grand Seminary, Paris, France, and officiated for some years as a priest in a small village in Normandie. Four years ago be crossed the Atlantic and became parish priest of the village of St. Martin in Wisconsin. There be fell in love with his pretty housekeeper, and put himself outside of the pale of the priesthood by marrying her. He then renounced his allegiance to the Church of Rome and came to this city with his young wife. Here he was taken in hand by several Protestant ministers, who took a lively interest in him, and he was soon placed in charge of a Methodist congregation. He entered a crusade against Catholicism. and, it is claimed, made many converts to Protestantism

It is reported that just previous his disappearance he was visited at his home by two Nuns, and that he had also been communicated with by Father Lacroix of the St. Louis Catholic Church. These facts create the impression that he has gone back to the Catholic Church. His wife, who is left alone with two young children, is greatly distressed at his disappearance.

Nearly one hundred guests came from Washington and Baltimore on a special train of Pull man cars last night, arriving in Jersey City at 7 o'clock. Breakfast was served n the Union Station.

At 10 o'clock the delegation from Philadelphia arrived and shortly after ward the guests were taken by a steamer to the navy-yard. The dock was flooded at about 11 o'clock. The United States monitor Puritan was docked immediately and the pumps were set at work at once emptying the dock. The whole affair passed off ulckly and without a mishap. After formal opening of the dock a collation was served to the invited guests, at which Mr. Simpson, the new dock and the United States Navy were toasted. The dry dock has been in course of erection about two years and a half and its cost was more than half a million

The contract price is $565,893. Its extreme length is 530 feet. Its greatest width at the top is 130 feet and at the bottom 53 feet. The depth in the centre is 32 feet 8 inches. The floor rests upon rows of piles. From it the sides rise at an angle of 45 degrees in a series of steps ten inches in height made of Georgia pine beams. It is emptied by ameter, with a capacity of 80,000 gallons an hour. The builders, J. E. Simpson & Co., have built thirteen other docks on the same pattern.

For some reason this statement was only dis-cussed and was not written out alussed, and was not written out, al though some paper of the kind will be sul mitted to the board to-night.

Mr. St. Gaudens refused yesterday to talk about the matter. Y. Carroll Beckwith, an instructor in the league, said: "I am very much opposed to mixed classes under any circumstances. If I had my way I would have the young men and young women of every class divided by a brick wall. I have all my classes diided. I wrote to the Board of Contro about ten days ago that the existence of a mixed class with a nude model would a mixed class with a nude model would be a great disadvantage to the league, and urged the board to consider long before allowing anything of the kind. My letter was subse-quently signed by Mr. William M. Chase, and was approved by Mr. C. Y. Turner. I am very deeply interested in the league, and have its welfare at heart. Julier tried the experiment in Paris in 1876 and in 1879, and it has been tried sev eral times since with the same result The men in Julien's class used to tell vile stories to drive the woman away. The presence of women, you see, canno be other than distracting. It may keep a man from slamming around his chair when he loses his temper, or from putting his fist through his canvas, but it takes his attention from his work. There is something in the argument that the women derive inspi ration from the strongest artists, and therefore, make more rapid progress The results have been thoroughly un-satisfactory, and I know of no city where a mixed class with nude models is now taught. The King of Dahomey Has Enough of the War With the French-He Had a General Beheaded-Bitter Coutroversy in the Italian Parliament,

LONDON, May 9 .- The latest advices from Africa represent the King of Dahomey as very tired of his war against the French. He had expected to overwhelm the small French garrison on the coast at one blow and either capture or drive them into the sea, and when his troops returned discomfitted from the defenses of Kotonou he was so enraged that he promptly beneaded the general in command and followed up the act with a slaughter of several more of his officers next day. This, however, had contrary effect what he expected, and many of his troops deserted, some seeking refuge within the French lines. The bombardment of Whydah has

The Government's proposal to com-pensate publicans and others interested for loss of licenses is very generally enlisting that influential element on the conservative side. This was probably the purpose of the Government in introducing the bill, for drinking being more common than in most other countries, the power of the publicans is relatively greater. While the temperance element is aroused its members are in a hopeless minority and cannot expect to effect much against the strong influences which favor the Government's course.
